For the midnight hour December 30, 2005

What are you doing New Year's Eve? You can keep it a secret but here's what some big names are doing.

In Las Vegas, our homey Kid Rock will preside at the Jet Nightclub New Year's grand opening. The evening will feature a live countdown, special DJ performances with two stages and three bars.

In New York, Mariah Carey and Seacrest will be at Cipriani 42nd Street with a top-shelf open bar, light show, ball drop live from Times Square, a midnight champagne toast and breakfast.

In Miami, Lindsey Lohan hosts at Prive with an open bar, VIP tables and admittance to the Opium Garden club. Music by Samantha Ronson and Vice. At Dalano there, Jamie Foxx lords it over an open bar, Dom Perignon toast at midnight, fireworks, dinner by Blue Door and music from DJ Irie.

Feeling really adventurous? Even at this late date, entry to these events is still available at www.wallbounce.com. But bring airline tickets and oh, yes, lots of dead presidents.
