

RESS RELEASE

WALLBOUNCE LAUNCHES WEBSITE

(October 12, 2005, New York, NY) - WallBounce is the premier provider of "discerning learning" experiences" with lectures, workshops, and special event recommendations in cities across the globe. Through relationships with various organizations, we provide access to speakers, experiences, events and behind-the-scenes moments which will create an indelible memory.

Wallbounce.com, "the discerning learning experience" company launches its website, www.wallbounce.com on November 1, 2005 at 11:01 am in a partnership with cutting-edge companies and consumers.

Initial roll-out is focused on the East Coast and will work West and Internationally within 90 days.

Many experiential opportunities are available to WallBounce members only, as we provide limited access to special events. In 2006, an auction site will be created to allow bids on special items and exclusive events.

With leading company partnerships, Wallbounce is poised for growth. The firm will also offer gift certificates, special events and the ability to specifically target interested consumers through a weekly or monthly Wallbounce mail.

ABOUT WALLBOUNCE Wallbounce (2005) is a privately held company with corporate headquarters in Arlington, VA. As a link between corporations and the highly-sought demographic of educated, high-net worth consumers, Wallbounce will work to create special moments. The firm is focused on style, fun, exclusives and behind-the-scenes learning moments.